

Supporting the 21st century teacher

The E-le@rningnigeria aims to transform your students' learning experience, adding fuel to the Federal Government's drive to raise attainment and motivation in education through ICT. It builds on their confidence, independence and motivation by offering them more choice and control in the way they learn. For teachers, it offers an opportunity to help lighten workloads and build new skill sets to become an e-confident teacher

Key features...

- Improving the nature of learning: Good resources cater for different styles. Tools, such as our Learning Styles Questionnaire, assess individual students' preferred learning styles so that tailored learning materials and information can be offered to enhance their learning.
- Cutting down teacher workloads:
 - An intelligent management system for assessments lets you set your students classwork, coursework and homework. What's more, you can receive work from your students and return it to them fully marked and graded!
 - Many of the learning materials run automated assessments of students' work - saving you valuable time from marking.
 - The e-learningnigeria enables self-directed learning, greater social contact, peer support, and provides a live mentoring service for your students 24/7 - bringing value to your non-contact time.
- Teachers submitting learning materials: Teachers are offered the opportunity to create and submit appropriate learning materials - enabling the valuable sharing of resources between all teachers in the E-le@rningnigeria community.
- Continuing Professional Development (CPD): A range of CPD programmes are offered to teachers and support staff using the e-learningnigeria, eg guidance on integrating the system into their teaching and learning. Opportunities to attain a formal accreditation in e-learning are also available.
- Online ICT skills training: All staff and students using the e-learningnigeria are offered support in developing their ICT skills through a series of online modules. This ICT skills training is available on a self-directed, individual learning basis and anyone who completes all the modules would get a certificate.
- 24-hour technical helpline: If you ever need help when using the E-le@rningnigeria, you can call our dedicated 24-hour technical helpline.
- Flexibility of access: Being entirely online means you can access your workspace when you want and where you want. Ultimately, it means greater flexibility for you and your students in when and where tasks are carried out.
